Thursday, March 6, 2008

2:30-4:30 p.m., Forest Mall, in front of the Coor building

Faculty/student poster sessions

See current work by faculty, graduate and undergraduate students; talk with presenters about their work. Refreshments will be served.

4:30-6 p.m., Coor 170

Plenary session on Visions of Justice and Justice Studies

Hear our three distinguished guest scholars discuss the current status and future direction of scholarship in the field.

Our visiting scholars are:

John Hagan, John D. MacArthur Professor of Sociology and Law, Northwestern University

Sally Engle Merry, professor of anthropology and law and society, New York University

Suli Zhu, dean of the law school, Peking University

Q & A session follows.

6-6:30 p.m., Coor 170

Reception

Meet our guest speakers and SJSI students, faculty and alumni.

Friday, March 7, 2008

8:30–9 a.m., Coor L1-74

Continental breakfast

9 a.m.–noon, Coor L1-74

Distinguished Lectures

Our three visiting scholars will present their current research, followed by discussion led by SJSI faculty and students.

Darfur and the Crime of Genocide

John Hagan

Law, Human Rights and Social Movements: Exploring the Justice Scaffold

Sally Engle Merry

Disciplines, Rituals, Addressing and Social Ordering: An Institutional Understanding of Everyday Confucianism

Suli Zhu

Noon-1:30 p.m., tent on Student Services lawn

Lunch and Roundtable Workshops

Current students, alumni, faculty and guests will discuss justice topics.