

Spring 2011 Presentations UPDATED

When	Who and What
Friday, January 28 - 4:00-5:00pm	 RESCHEDULED  to April 1 (see below)
Friday, February 11 - 4:00-5:00pm	Michael Crow, ASU President and School of Public Affairs faculty “Designing a University for Public Action”
Friday, February 25 - 4:00-5:00pm	Yushim Kim, School of Public Affairs faculty, and Heather Campbell, Claremont Graduate University faculty “Using Agent-Based Modeling to Disentangle Environmental (In)Justice”
Friday, March 25 - 4:00-5:00pm	Robbie Robichau, School of Public Affairs doctoral student “The ‘Evolution’ of Governance: Past, Present and Future”
Wednesday, March 30 - 4:00-5:00pm  JUST ADDED 	John Cimino, President and CEO of Creative Leaps International “Lighting the Slow Fuse of Possibility - Partners for a New Beginning: from Resilience to Renaissance”
Friday, Apr. 1, 2011 - 4:00-5:00pm note date change	Edward Jennings, University of Kentucky faculty and School of Public Affairs visiting faculty, Spring 2011 “The Ghosts of Comparative State Policy Analysis Past: Politics, Economics, and the Spending Priorities of the American States”
Friday, Apr. 15, 2011 - 4:00-5:00pm	Arnold Danzig, School of Public Affairs faculty “State Education Policy Development in Arizona: The Example of Leadership Preparation”
Friday, Apr. 29, 2011 - 4:00-5:00pm	Daniel Schugurensky, School of Public Affairs faculty “Municipal Governance, Local Democracy and Community Engagement: The Possibilities and Limits of Participatory Budgeting”

Locations

All presentations take place at ASU’s Downtown Phoenix campus, University Center, 411 North Central Avenue, Phoenix, Room 822A.

The Fine Print

Attendance is open, and no RSVPs are required. Titles/topics are subject to change. Direct questions to Evie Selberg (evie.selberg@asu.edu). For reminders and updates, please subscribe to the ASU SPAN listserv (<http://spa.asu.edu/Resources/Listsev.htm>). 1/18/11