

Cherylene A. Schick has worked for the past 40 years in the public sector including the last 22 years at Arizona State University. For the past 14 years she has been with Morrison Institute for Public Policy and currently holds the position of Computer Document Specialist, Principal. As such she has a great deal of experience producing various types of documents and combining multiple formats into a uniform document. She has produced numerous research reports, proposals, press releases, internal reports, brochures, invitations, correspondence, surveys, questionnaires, etc. using desk top publishing and word processing software; created and maintained database used for mailing various research media; and using various graphic software, produced graphs, flow charts, and illustrations for research reports.

Ms. Schick has a BFA in Theatre Arts & English Literature from the University of Nebraska. She works with various software packages including: Corel Word Perfect and Corel Draw; Microsoft Access, Word, Excel, Powerpoint, and Outlook; Adobe Pagemaker, Illustrator, Acrobat Pro, and Type Manager; OmniPage 15.0 (scanning) among others.