Computing Facilities

Computing Sites

The main computer lab, known as the Computing Commons, is intended to be the central access to ASURITE and ASUE computing services on campus for students. Students can access ASU computer services including email, files and instructor volumes from Windows XP Workstations. If the Computing Commons is full, students may use the classrooms as open labs if they are open and a class is not in session. Here are the specifications to the labs and classrooms:

Activate Your ASURITE UserID!

You need to activate ASURITE UserID to use any computing site on campus. Account activation is available at the computer common in the Academic Center building or through the Website; www.asu.edu/asurite. If you need assistance call 480-965-1211 or visit the front desk located at the Computing Commons.

Make sure you subscribed to these services after you have activated you UserID:
> AFS File Service
> General Computing
> Student E-Mail Service (optional)
> ASU Windows 2000 Active Directory

Printing

There is a charge for printing in all computing sites and classrooms. Printing requires the use of an ASU Sun Card with a Sun Dollar account. Cost for black and white printing is $0.05 per page. To add funds to your ASU Sun Card, a cash to card machine is available outside the Computing Commons in the CNTR building. Also, you can add funds in $20 increments by going to http:\\www.suncard1.com. Sun Dollars are accepted at the bookstore, the campus dining hall, some vending machines on campus, and the print release stations.

Scanning

Scanners are available in the Computing Commons. There are instructions located near the scanners for usage. Students who need to use a scanner will have priority on the computers that have scanners.

Saving Files in the Site

We recommend that you use the M drive, CD burner, or Thumb drive when saving files.

Your AFS Space

You have access to 10MB of space to save your personal files and applications preferences. This may be increased upon request.

From a PC and a Linux Computer:
Double click the AFS (M drive) icon located on the desktop.

From a Mac:
Double click the Mount my AFS Space icon located on the desktop.

Computer Use Guidelines

- Acceptable Use Policy
  Usage of computing site resources must be in accordance with ASU Computer, Internet, and Electronic Communications Policy, which can be found at :
  http://www.asu.edu/it/fyi/policies\acceptableuse.html. Computing resources are provided for academic use only.

- Food, Drink, and Chewing Tobacco are not Permitted
  Please help maintain the equipment and facilities by not bringing these items into the computing site. There are tables located in the Commons to place food and drink while working on a computer.

- Maintain a Library Atmosphere
  If you are working with a group of people, team work areas are available by reservation down stairs at the Oasis desk and learning centers. Mobile phones use is not permitted.
