

Tempe, June 29-1896.

To the Board of Education of the Territorial Normal School at Tempe, Arizona:

Gentlemen: We have closed what may justly be regarded as a successful year in the history of the Territorial Normal School.

The accompanying tabulated report shows a total enrollment for the year of fifty five ~~students~~, an average daily attendance of thirty four and six-tenths for the entire term, and a percentage of attendance of ninety five and two-tenths on the average number belonging.

Though the graduating class numbered but two, yet with the comparatively large number of students that have been earnestly engaged in doing the first and the second year's work, it may confidently be expected that in future the classes for graduation will be such in numbers, as well as in preparation for the teacher's work, as will make valuable yearly additions to the corps
