from Deep eco pré

The following pieces are excerpts from Deep eco pré, a collaboration by Tina Darragh and Marcella Durand using Francis Ponge’s Making of the Pre and Michael Zimmerman’s Contesting Earth’s Future: Radical Ecology and Postmodernity.

status of sides in bedded colors flat chord in one moment from where we overlooked the scene, among dry shrubs a score accompanies, but is not explained it is companion, a “wider identification” does ecology reduce the world to a picture and in a still blue sky one bird the shape of a sentence cuts across and introduces a question whether the ego should be the size of a meadow and a Deep Ecology Platform, constructed like a fire tower, the making represents the evolution, the search for formulation, constructing id, ego and ancient tribal wisdom, reflected in the meadows discovered in the produce and presentation, if the meadow is a product, or a presentation, and a word flies across the static, prepared for no prostration, (“to preserve the verticalities”) if this meadow is like the larger forest, a sanctuary, a giant T, prepare, pare, prêt, pres, near to us, presque, presque here,

and here the picture, paint by numbers, and below us, preserving verticalities, runs a river (the Lignon) place as well as pasturage; we can assimilate it it is presque here, prepared, pared away as we have been prepared eived bursts when pack ice splits eived bursts when pack ice splits paints sky water dark like my letter to be quiet? A giant T divides sky as bird a thin timbre or nothing tents with “a trace” as days move wegian to crisis as if a meadow had been perfect acute stems eart, a timbre, arth, h, a giant H, enjoying statistics, against with speech rather thin to those finding tedious-nature-delicate-brief about it don’t you understand? passed away as we have been ready “Today I am thinking again about that harpsichord” only just seen it, or foreseen or wanted to do it, don’t you understand?

Bursts like my letter to be quiet – but it was too late, eiving Why would this be right? of varied notes, a little like music last minute corrections: 7/27/64 at 4:30 P.M. the orange original a longuement parle – edious, less melodious than organ or strings, the human voice: hurried or slow, with the same rhythm as breakage of pack ice, dark, watery and low, the lips (mouthed), not from the heart, nor from the body, resembling a compte rendu, experience scientific, in all the details, with a luxurious precision, divine the parks oily underneath, and each tree oily, for those creatures appear disinherited, reject of idealism, subjectivity, and anthropocentrism, had the original storm not raged in us at such length, It was brief, and acute and eives us signification.

Here are the laws of pré, presque and almost,
Nearly there, field of our repose, prepared, close,
And we have participated, X, T and H, a DEP, We came to the literal wilderness from ego-centered Stupidity to regenerative perception, a longuement parle, to serve as pack ice, if you will, brief, biolin, their first sojourn in surrendering the ego, for sunny vineyards, according to I know not 27 years, accumulation of past days and principle of today’s day as snow accumulates and turns to ice, as ice covers poles and birds on which watched as evidence.
