Economic Development and Social Embeddedness

How will ASU assist the Valley’s urban growth issues?

- ASU, in its metropolitan setting, will foster research that will contribute to the community.

- Numerous projects, such as the Sustainable Technologies Program, the Drug Resistance Strategies Project, and the Greater Phoenix 2100 Project, are already underway to directly address urban issues.

- ASU will support research centers that will initiate additional studies related to our metropolitan region.
Examples of ASU Centers Studying Urban Issues

- Morrison Institute for Public Policy
- Center for Urban Inquiry
- Center for Business Research
- Center for Environmental Studies