James Case Speech and Hearing Scholarship

In Honor of...

The James Case Speech and Hearing Scholarship is an operating account within the Department of Speech and Hearing Science in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Funding for this scholarship is made possible by contributions to the scholarship fund by alumni, faculty, staff and other potential donors.

Dr. James Case is a retired faculty member who was an integral part of the ASU’s Department of Speech and Hearing for 31 years. He taught classes, conducted research, and provided clinical services and training in the areas of voice and cranio-facial disorders. He retired from the department in the Spring of 2000 but continues to provided academic and clinical advice to students and practicing clinicians. He is currently editing the 4th edition of his textbook entitled: Clinical Management of Voice Disorders.

As a tribute to Dr. Case’s contribution to our students and the field of Speech-Language Pathology, the department established the James Case Speech and Hearing Scholarship to provide financial aid to those seeking a profession in the art and science of speech-language pathology.

Award

The award provides financial assistance to help defray tuition expenses. Award winners must meet all departmental admission eligibility requirements and continue academic progress, as verified by the Chair of the Department of Speech and Hearing Science, to receive the award. At present, this award is intended for incoming Master’s candidates.

Criteria

The James Case Speech and Hearing Scholarship is available to full-time, regularly admitted, students entering the Master of Science program in Communication Disorders. Selection will be decided upon by the department’s awards committee with the intent to recruit strong students into the field of Communication Disorders. Qualified applicants who have completed their undergraduate work or deficiency coursework at ASU are encouraged to apply.
Application Procedures

Scholarship applications are available online and from the Department of Speech and Hearing Science, Language & Literature Building, Room LL 173, PO Box 870102, Tempe, AZ 85287-0102. You may also request an application by e-mailing the department.

Unsolicited applications are due no later than February 1st. The department may encourage strong admission candidates to apply after this deadline.

Finalists will be chosen by the Department’s awards committee no later than 30 days prior to the selection date, which is on or near April 1st. The committee will then give recommendations to the Department Chair who will make the final selection. The award will be announced as part of an annual awards ceremony in April. Recipients and donors will be encouraged to attend this event.
