Zilveti Family Fellowship

In Honor of...

The Zilveti Family Fellowship is a permanent endowment in the Department of Speech and Hearing Science in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Funding for this scholarship is made possible by the annual payout from the Arizona State University Foundation account. Carlos “C.J.” and Mary Zilveti established this fellowship in honor of C.J.’s mother, Halina. Halina was a speech therapist with a school district in Woodbridge, Connecticut, for 30 years. C.J. Zilveti admired the important work that his mother did and the impact that it had in the lives of the children she worked with. The Zilveti’s hope the fellowship will encourage and assist students at ASU who demonstrate a similar passion for assisting others through the field of speech and hearing science.

Award

The award provides financial assistance to help defray tuition expenses. Award winners must be entering their second year of the Master of Science program with a specialization in speech-language pathology. The first recipient of this award will be selected in the Spring of 2003.

Criteria

The Zilveti Fellowship is available to full-time, regularly admitted students entering the second year of the program. Selection is based on Arizona residency, academic scholarship and career interest. Financial circumstances are also considered.

Application Procedures

Scholarship applications are available online and also from the Department of Speech and Hearing Science, Language & Literature Building, Room LL 173, PO Box 870102, Tempe, AZ 85287-0102. You may also request an application by e-mailing the department.

Applications are due no later than February 1st.

Four finalists will be chosen by the Department of Speech and Hearing Science; these applications will be sent to the selection committee for review no later than 30 days prior to the award date, which is on or near April 1st. The committee will then give recommendations to the Department Chair who will make the final selection. The award will be announced as part of an annual awards ceremony in April. Recipients and donors will be encouraged to attend this event.
