Ventana Room, MEMORIAL UNION

"TRANSGENDER MIGRANTS, ASYLUM AND IMMIGRATION LAW"

Regina Jefferies (Thomas & Jefferies, PLLC), recently argued two asylum cases in Federal Immigration Court and will provide a hands-on perspective on this important area of rights, organizing and litigation. In addition, she will be joined by representatives of the Tucson-based organization, Colibrí, for an open discussion.

Ms. Jefferies is a graduate of the Sandra Day O'Connor Law School, has a Master of Studies in International Human Rights Law, University of Oxford, and has extensive experience in family-based immigration, Federal court litigation and deportation defense.
