DISCRIMINATION

Alumni are gathering in the Krause Kookery tonight for their annual soup-sling and THE COLLEGIAN makes this contribution to the atmosphere of the affair.

The edition is printed in a spirit of fun with serious articles intermingled with stories of a humorous nature.

No attempt has been made to humiliate or embarrass persons mentioned in the issue.

Th's is a wonderful opportunity for alumni to test their power of discrimination.

And if the alumni don't care for the general plan, there remains only one recourse—that of getting angry and seeking out the editor with pitchfork, dagger, or sword.

WAR'S PENALTY

Such is the penalty of war! Can you remember when THIS was Capt. Frederick M. Irish? Anyway he finally cleared his head of the notion of being a hero.

Weekly Newspaper Of College Among State's Greatest

In THE COLLEGIAN, Arizona State at Tempe has one of the state's leading weekly newspapers, with a circulation of more than two thousand with both city and college news coverage.

The columns of the paper will keep you informed of the affairs of your college, of the work it is accomplishing, of your sons' and daughters' activities in college life.

Subscribe to THE COLLEGIAN. It will be mailed to your home weekly for an entire year for $1.25.

A CLEAR INDICATION OF THE growing reputation of Arizona State is the fact that this spring more inquiries concerning Tempe graduates are coming to the teacher placement office of the college than before.

"THEM WERE THE DAYS"

CARL G. HOYER is not the first and only bandmaster that Tempe has had. We haven't been able to find the culprit in this old cut, gleaned from the files of "THE STUDENT" but one must have existed. Are you or any of your friends in this picture?

Bob Krause Prepares Feast

NO ZOOP ON MENU, JAVA IS DISHWATER

As THE COLLEGIAN went to press the menu for tonight's alumni banquet was completed. It is the 21st prepared by Steward Robert R. Krause at Tempe and Mrs. Krause again supervises the service.

THE MENU:

Hearts of celery, salted almonds, Arizona olives.

Stuffed squab chicken, Concord jelly, giblet sauce, potatoes Parisienne, cut string beans.

Pear and cheese salad.
Lucullus punch.

Cantaloupe chocolate sundae.
Assorted small pastries.

Coffee and mints.

The banquet is being served by the regular student dining hall force, with Vernon Tuckey, Associated Students president, as head waiter.

OLD TIMERS!

Going back 15 years to 1919 or before, Tempe has 16 "old-timers" on the faculty, headed in years of service by Registrar Frederick M. Irish, who came here in 1896. President Emeritus Matthews came to Tempe in 1900.

Other present faculty members and the year of their arrival in Tempe:

Miss Mary Empey, 1903; Miss Laura Dobbs, 1906; Miss Leona Haulot, 1906; Miss Louise Lynd, 1907; Ira D. Payne, 1911; Mrs. Ida Woolf O'Connor, 1912; Miss Theresa Anderson, 1913; Amelia Kudobe, 1913; John R. Murdock, 1914; Miss Edith Pilcher, 1914; Miss Helen Roberts, 1915; Miss Sallie Hayden, 1917; Miss Ella Louise Roll, 1918; and Forrest E. Ostrander, 1918.

HAZING IS NOT ALLOWED IN modern days at Arizona State but the frosh still happily retain their little green "beanies" as the mark of distinction between themselves and upperclassmen.

CHEF BOB

For 21 years Bob Krause has supervised pots, pans, and ladles in "The Beanery" and now we have to eat his food again!

CAN YOU DANCE? RECREATION HALL AT 9

If your joints do not rebel, if you haven't grown heavy or if you have, and if you're not bashful, the next stop is the Recreation hall in Old Main soon after 9 o'clock.

The Aristocrats, a student orchestra the equal of any in Arizona, will play for the dance which lasts until you're tired, and the seniors of the college will be special escorts and guests at the occasion.

Joe Selleh, '32, is active manager of the dance, suave approach, hand-shake, and wavy hair included, and Miss Vienna Curtiss, '33, has arranged for the marvelous Mexican decorations of the hall.

Remember "way back when" you used to attend weekly dances at Tempe? O. K. Alumni, drop in again!

IN THE GLORIOUS PAST THE Bulldogs' chief enemies were the Phoenix Indians—today Arizona State's football schedule includes games with Loyola university, Flagstaff, the University of Arizona and of New Mexico, Caltech, Sul Ross Teachers in Texas, and New Mexico Aggies.

MAESTRO OF FRUIT ORCHARDS SMILES

Head Cook Krause was shelling walnuts from his ranch near the briny Pacific when came orders to prepare a feast of left-overs for the grads.

"I'll fix them a feast," he screamed, "one they'll never forget—if they live. If they want food, they'll get it."

"But if they eat in my dining room," piped up the Missus and better half, "they must wash their dirty faces and say 'yes'm' and 'no'm' to me. I'll not tolerate any foolishness from them now—they still look like a bunch of kids to me."

"We d'wanna cook," cried the Krauses in accord, "We'd rather tell tall tales, but here 'tis, take it and just try to like it."

SIX MILLION MEALS

Walking nearly three times the circumference of the earth, Bob Krause during the past 21 years has served at least 5,698,350 meals to students of the college.

The steward walks an average of ten miles a day in preparing the meals for an average of 335 students.

And while Mr. Krause walked his 56,700 miles Mrs. Krause turned in even greater mileage serving the meals to hungry college students.

Term Of Gammage Brings Progress

During the past year, since President Grady Gammage came to the valley from Flagstaff, Arizona State has marched steadily forward, despite a limited budget.

The year 1933-34 has seen a gain in enrollment, state-wide recognition has come for both men's and women's extra-curricular activities, federal money has made possible campus improvements, and the faculty has carried a heavy academic and non-academic load as they study the curriculum for more progressive changes.
