

Klann Picked For U.S. Coach

Retired after 30 years, but not inactive, former ASU archery mentor Margaret Klann, has been named to coach the U.S. Archery team at the World Championships in Canberra, Australia, Feb.

Klann

5-12. Klann will join the team of four women and four men in Los Angeles for a Jan. 31 departure.

She was instrumental in establishing collegiate archery, and during her tenure coached ASU archers to 55 All Americas, six women's team championships, two men's team championships, and four mixed championships. Under her tutelage, Sun Devil archers also captured four women's and three men's individual titles.