

PLATE 1.2

(notice) temporary incursions of shallow seas silicified stumps

hinge-teeth of bivalves
stem / segments
columnals

identified in bone-beds or lakes which were saline.

these may be examined

conglomerates sandstones and marls shift internal moulds disappear by solution alternating grits or shales ascending in sequence.

exposures are scattered residual / deposits of specimens (no longer mined)

sea water passes upwards without significant break.