Wearing is caring

Everyone is required to wear a face covering while in ASU buildings. Face coverings will also be required in outdoor community spaces where social distancing isn't possible.

Take care of each other - and take care of yourself

Students and employees will need to monitor their temperature each day. If you find that you have a fever, you should stay home and seek health advice.

Spread joy, not droplets

Germs may be spread on surfaces. Do your part and wipe down common areas and disinfect surfaces regularly to reduce the risk.

Be wise. Sanitize.

Practice good hygiene by using hand sanitizer when you're out and about and after coming in contact with high-touch surfaces, such as elevator buttons, door handles or handling money.

Be in safe hands: clean ones

Frequent hand washing remains among the best ways to slow the spread. Wash your hands for at least 20 seconds using soap and water - after being out in public, after coughing, before and after eating and...well, right now.
